

World Regional Geography GEOG 1300

T Th 12:25-1:45pm 3 credit hours- BF

Geography of the world is the foundation for knowledge and understanding the culture, economics, political systems and physical environments of the earth. You cannot understand any of these without “doing” geography?

This course uses the concept of a region as the geographical approach to understand the geospatial organization and interactions of the people and physical environments of the earth. This is a survey course that will begin with discussions of several global physical environmental systems, such as climate, soils and landforms. This will be the foundation for discussion of related human systems and processes, including population growth, urbanization, terrorism geopolitics and economic development. Several regions of the world will be examined and discussed using this integration of human activities with the natural environment undergoing the globalization process.

Geography 1300 meets the BF Social Science Exploration Requirement.
