The power to model complex environmental systems in a geospatial framework is one of the great assets of GIS. This course integrates the fundamental operations of spatial analysis and GIS into a modeling framework.

Subjects covered include:
• Fuzzy logic and cartographic modeling
• Spatial interaction modeling
• Cellular automata and agent-based models
• Dynamic raster models