GEOG 6510/5510: Cities and Globalization

A broad overview of important work in urban geography/studies, focusing on urban and development theory and policy, including globalization and cities, urban systems, economic development, housing, urban land use, urbanization, neighborhood transition, and spatial structure.

Semester: Spring 2017
Time: Friday, 8:35am—11:35am
Location: Bldg 73 242

Instructor: Dr. Dennis Wei, Professor Geography, University of Utah
wei@geog.utah.edu
Cities and Globalization
GEOG 6510/5510

This course provides a broad overview of important work in urban geography and urban studies; it focuses on urban and development theory and policy, including globalization and cities, urban systems, urban economic development, housing and urban land use, migration and urbanization, neighborhood transition, and spatial structure.

Instructor: Dr. Dennis Wei, Professor Department of Geography
University of Utah
wei@geog.utah.edu

Semester: Spring 2016
Time: Friday
8:35am—11:35am
Location: Bldg 73 242