KINES 4670 Course Syllabus
Fall 2019

Instructor: Arwen Fuller, PhD
Office: HPER North, Rm. 256
Email: arwen.fuller@utah.edu
Phone: (801) 581-7734 (EMAIL is preferred!)
Office Hours: TBA

Class Info.: Class meets on Tues. & Thurs. from 1:25-2:45 at HPER E 206
Graduate TA: Anupriya Pathania pathania.anupriya@utah.edu

Course Description:
This class explores the demographics of the aging population, theories of aging, heterogeneity of the aging process, and provides a systems approach to basic physiological changes associated with aging. The research literature provides multiple examples of evidence-based outcomes of exercise participation among older adults.

Course Prerequisites:
KINES 3091; KINES 4465 (Co-Requisite)

Course Materials:
• Journal articles and other course material will be posted to the Canvas online course webpage throughout the term

Student Learning Outcomes:
By the end of the course, students will be able to:
1. describe the basic concepts of aging, including demographic shifts within the US population, primary and secondary aging, theories of aging, life expectancy, and factors thought to slow the aging process

2. describe the aging-related changes to the cardiovascular, pulmonary, skeletal muscle, skeletal, neurological and sensory systems

3. describe the appropriateness of physical activity and exercise programming for a variety of outcomes including improved muscle strength and power, improved physical function, weight loss, improved aerobic fitness, and fall prevention, and more.

4. read and interpret the research literature on the topic of physical activity and/or exercise for older adults

Teaching & Learning Methods:
Teaching methods include lecture, instructor-directed problem solving, and student-driven discussion. Assessments of learning objectives include assignments, quizzes, exams and a project.
Evaluation Methods & Grade Distribution:

In-class Questions: In-class questions will be given in-class, as such, you need to be present to complete these assessments. These assignments are not listed in the course schedule and may be given at any time during the semester (except on exam days) without prior notification. In-class questions must be completed during class and must be submitted at the end of class. In-class questions submitted after the end of class will not be graded.

Case Study Project: This assignment will be posted on Canvas, and students will submit a printed copy of their completed assignment in class. Further description of the assignment and detailed instructions will be presented later in the semester.

Quizzes & Exams: Quizzes and exams will be given in class and may include multiple choice, fill-in-the-blank and short answer questions. YOU MUST BRING a regular calculator and a pencil. On exam days, all electronic devices (including phones, apple watches, tablets, computers, etc.) are to be turned off and stored prior to entering the testing room. If electronic devices are seen in the testing room, you will be asked to leave and will receive an automatic "0" for the exam.

- Once quizzes & exams are returned, students will have one week to discuss any grading issues with me.

Instructor’s Course Policies:
1. All class members must behave in a respectful manner. Quality teaching and learning occurs when there is little concern for harassment or ridicule. As such, all members of this class (instructor, TA and students alike) must treat each other with respect.
   - Students are not permitted to record (video or audio) any portion of this course without prior approval from the instructor. Please come ask me if you’d like to record class discussions or lectures.
   - Please silence all cell phones prior to the beginning of class. If you must take a call during class, immediately leave the room so you don’t disturb the rest of the class.
   - Please refrain from surfing the internet, texting or social media activity during class.

2. Students are expected to attend class. I expect you to attend class and therefore, I expect that you are aware of topics that were presented and questions that were answered in class. If you are not able to attend class, you should do the following: 1) Check Canvas to make sure that you are aware of all posted assignments and their due dates as well as any announcements that were posted, 2) Talk to a fellow student who can inform you about what you missed and who can give you any notes taken during class, 3) Meet with me (or a TA) to clarify any persisting confusion or questions you still have due to your absence.

3. Students are expected to participate in class. I expect you to participate in class in a way that facilitates your learning. Participation includes: asking questions (in or outside of class) when concepts are not clear, providing input during in-class work, and assisting other students if appropriate. If you are struggling with a topic, you should ask for help from me or a TA. Ultimately, you are responsible for your own learning. It doesn’t make sense to struggle in silence; if I don’t know you’re struggling, I can’t help you.
4. Students are expected to come to class prepared. I expect you to work outside of class to learn the information discussed in class. 99.9% of you will not be able to do this successfully simply by attending class. You should read the assigned material and regularly review the additional course information provided on Canvas. The lectures do not work in isolation of each other. Thus, in preparation for subsequent lectures, you should become very familiar with the information that was already presented. The best way to do this is to spend significant time with the material outside of class. See my suggested study techniques described below.

5. Students are expected to check Canvas regularly. I expect you to check Canvas regularly (i.e. daily) so that you are aware of: 1) all announcements I post, 2) where we are in the course, 3) what due dates are impending, 4) your grade and course-standing.

6. Students are expected to complete all assessments according to their scheduled dates. I expect you to submit assignments and take quizzes and exams as scheduled. The assessment dates (assignment due dates and dates of quizzes and exams) are listed on the course calendar portion of the syllabus, which is available on Canvas. I suggest that you print off a copy of this schedule and keep it handy for regular reference. If any of these dates must be changed, you will be notified in a timely manner both in class and on Canvas. Missed assessments may only be made up according to the policies discussed below. Students are responsible for knowing the registration, drop, and withdrawal dates and for tracking their grades throughout the term.

7. Late assignments will not be accepted. In-class questions, quizzes and exams will be completed in class. Case studies will be submitted in class towards the end of the semester. I will not accept assignments via email except in very unusual circumstances according to the policies discussed below.

8. Students may not negotiate course grades. You will be graded according to your performance on the assessments (which may or may not reflect your effort). Asking for a grade that you did not earn based on your performance is not professional, mature, or ethical. Your letter grade will correspond to the course percentages below, without exception. A student who earns a 72.5% will be awarded a C grade. Likewise, a student who earns a 72.4% will receive a C- grade. The ONLY basis for a change in your letter grade is a grading error so please keep track of your assignments. If you suspect a grading error has been made, please email me within 1 week of getting the assignment, quiz or exam back.

9. Students must demonstrate academic honesty and integrity. You are expected to demonstrate integrity, and in doing so, not endeavor to cheat or misrepresent your circumstances. Examples of misbehavior include, but aren’t limited to, submitting work completed by another student, completing another student’s assignments, looking at or copying off of a neighbor’s quiz or exam, and lying about the circumstances of an absence. These kinds of incidents are classified as academic misconduct and will be handled according to the Student Code. http://regulations.utah.edu/academics/6-400.php. In doing so, the first time you are caught cheating, I will provide you with a warning. If you are caught a second time, you will be given a “0” for the assessment. If you are caught a third time, you will fail the course and your case will be submitted to the College of Health’s Assistant Dean of Students or the Associate Dean for Faculty and Academic Affairs. Please keep in mind that these kinds of offenses may result in your dismissal from the University.
Instructor’s Policy on Make-up Assessments (Assignments, Quizzes, Exams):
Assessments can only be made up after their original due date and only for the reasons listed below:

- Officially sanctioned University activities: Examples of these include band, debate, student government intercollegiate athletics, and government or religious obligations. In these cases, students must provide the instructor with official documentation in advance of the absence.

- Absences caused by other compelling reasons beyond the student’s control: Examples of these include physical or mental illness, injury, and death or illness in the family or of a significant other, and the birth of your child. In these cases, authentic official documentation (signed and dated) of the extenuating circumstance is required.
  - Work-related absences will not be excused except in the case of unforeseen employment changes.
  - Vacations are NOT an extenuating circumstance. Please share this with family members who may be prone to make travel plans for you without consulting you first.
  - Weddings (yours or a friend) do not qualify as excused absences.
  - You should inquire at the start of the semester if you are unsure if a specific absence qualifies as an excused absence.

Procedures for arranging to make up an assessment: Except in unforeseen circumstances (i.e. sudden illness, etc.), students must notify the instructor about the circumstances requiring rescheduling of an assessment prior to the absence. Notification should be given by umail to arwen.fuller@utah.edu. Make-ups should be completed within 3 days of the missed assessment whenever possible.

Non-Contract Note:
This syllabus is not a binding legal contract; the instructor may modify it when the student is given reasonable notice of the modification.

University Policies:
University Safety Statement
The University of Utah values the safety of all campus community members. To report suspicious activity or to request a courtesy escort, call campus police at 801-585-COPS (801-585-2677). You will receive important emergency alerts and safety messages regarding campus safety via text message. For more information regarding safety and to view available training resources, including helpful videos, visit safeu.utah.edu.

Student Code
All students are expected to maintain professional behavior in the classroom setting, according to the Student Code, spelled out in the Student Handbook. Students have specific rights in the classroom as detailed in Article III of the Code. The Code also specifies proscribed conduct (Article XI) that involves cheating on tests, plagiarism, and/or collusion, as well as fraud, theft, etc. Students should read the Code carefully and know they are responsible for the content. According to Faculty Rules and Regulations, it is the faculty responsibility to enforce responsible classroom behaviors, beginning with verbal warnings and progressing to dismissal from class and a failing grade. Students have the right to appeal such action to the Student Behavior Committee. Students should read the Code carefully and know they are responsible for the content. http://regulations.utah.edu/academics/6-400.php
Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Statement
The University of Utah seeks to provide equal access to its programs, services and activities for people with disabilities. If you will need accommodations in the class, reasonable prior notice needs to be given to the Center for Disability Services, 162 Olpin Union Building, 581-5020 (V/TDD), http://disability.utah.edu/. CDS will work with you and the instructor to make arrangements for accommodations. All information in this course can be made available in alternative format with prior notification to the Center for Disability Services.

Sexual Misconduct
Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender (which includes sexual orientation and gender identity/expression) is a Civil Rights offense subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories such as race, national origin, color, religion, age, status as a person with a disability, veteran’s status or genetic information. If you or someone you know has been harassed or assaulted on the basis of your sex, including sexual orientation or gender identity/expression, you are encouraged to report it to the University’s Title IX Coordinator: Office of Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action, 135 Park Building, 801-581-8365, or to the Office of the Dean of Students, 270 Union Building, 801-581-7066. For support and confidential consultation, contact the Center for Student Wellness, 426 SSB, 801-581-7776. To report to police, contact the Department of Public Safety, 801-585-2677(COPS). Additional information about reporting and victim supportive resources are available at the offices listed above.

University Resources:
Center for Student Wellness
Personal concerns such as stress, anxiety, relationship difficulties, depression, cross-cultural differences, etc., can interfere with anyone’s ability to succeed and thrive at the University of Utah. For helpful resources, please contact the Center for Student Wellness - www.wellness.utah.edu; 801-581-7776.

Veterans Center
If you are a student veteran, please be aware that the University of Utah has a Veteran’s Support Center on campus. They are located in Room 161 in the Olpin Union Building. Hours: M-F 8-5pm. Please visit their website for more information: http://veteranscenter.utah.edu/.

LGBT Resource Center
If you are a member of the LGBT community, please know that this class is considered a safe zone. Additionally, please know that the University of Utah has an LGBT Resource Center on campus. They are located in Room 409 in the Olpin Union Building. Hours: M-F 8-5pm. Please visit their website for more information: http://lgbt.utah.edu.

Learners of English as an Additional/Second Language
If you are an English language learner, please be aware of several resources on campus that will support you with your language development and writing. These resources include: the Department of Linguistics ESL Program (http://linguistics.utah.edu/esl-program/); the Writing Center (http://writingcenter.utah.edu/); the Writing Program (http://writing-program.utah.edu/); the English Language Institute (http://continue.utah.edu/eli/).

The Center for Disability and Access
The Center for Disability and Access provides accommodations and services to students at the University of Utah whose condition significantly impacts their ability to function in the academic setting. Specific accommodations that are available to students depend on the documentation of the disability, the essential elements of the course, and the functional limitations created by the student’s disability. In order to qualify for accommodation, students must schedule an appointment with CDA. More information about accommodations and services as well as how to qualify for services can be found on their website: https://disability.utah.edu
