This class examines art and visual culture of Italy, France, Spain, and colonial Latin America from c. 1580-1700. Themes to be explored include: religious imagery and the Catholic Counter-Reformation, changing notions of artistic practice and identity, relationships between art and politics, and the role of the visual arts in scientific inquiry.